Mrs. Henry Smith's Son.

(From the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.) Mrs. Henry Smith of Winamac, Ind., wrote a letter to President Wilson complaining of the hardships that her son was compelled to undergo as a member of the national guard on duty in Texas.

The President, in his reply, has explained to her that the national guard is at the border "not for the purpose of drill, but for the purpose of protecting the country," and that he "cannot believe that the men of the national guard would wish to be exposed to it, or would lose heart because of the discomforts and inconveniences of the service."

If Mrs. Henry Smith were a wise woman she would not be writing to the President bewailing the trifling hardships to which her son is obliged to submit as a member of the national guard. She would be down on her knees thanking God that the President is exerting every honorable effort to bring a peaceful solution of the difficulties with Mexico, and that her boy is not already out on the firing line with the boys of 400,000 other American mothers.

The hardships to which the national guard is subjected on the Texas frontier are about equal to the hardships of an ordinary strenuous vacation in the Maine or Minnesota woods; but war is a serious business. When Mrs. Henry Smith thinks about the petty inconveniences to which her son is subjected, let her think also of the millions of boys in Europe who are in the trenches and who are dying daily by the thousands in the midst of the most ghastly warfare known to human history.

Let her think of the boys dying on the field, with arms blown off, or legs blown off, or faces blown off, perishing in horrible agony for the lack of medical assistance which cannot reach them.

Let her think of the millions of boys in Europe who, after this war is over, will be crippled for life or, with health shattered, will be doomed to eke out a wretched existence as hopeless invalids.

Let her think of the millions of mothers who are not worrying because their boys have to eat army rations, but who are worrying day and night as to whether they will ever see their boys again alive. Let her try to visualize the hourly terrors of war in which 5,000,000 or 10,000,000 men have already been killed or wounded—most of them boys like her boy.

Then let her remember that except for the statesmanship of Woodrow Wilson the body of her son might be lying to-day in an unmarked grave in Flanders or France.

Mrs. Henry Smith, with true maternal solicitude, naturally thinks it is a great nuisance that her boy should have to savor in the heat of a Texas summer and live off coarse food, and so it is, but the troubles of her son are very small in comparison with what they would be if the United States had undertaken armed intervention in Mexico. Her own troubles, too, are very small in comparison with what they would be if she were watching the newspapers every day for the list of the dead and wounded in the fighting.

There are millions of Mrs. Henry Smiths in this country with boys who would be subject to military duty if the United States went to war. When they are disposed to find fault with the policies of the President, let them devote a little prayerful consideration to the millions of Mrs. Henry Smiths in Europe whose boys are now only memories. But for President Wilson these American mothers would be drinking the bitter dregs of that same cup.

Widows are to get Pensions.

Through an amendment to the annual pension appropriation bill, passed by the house of representatives, widows who were wives of soldiers during their service in the Civil War will receive $20 a month. The amendment further provides that all Civil War widows shall receive $20 a month when they have attained the age of 70 years, an increase of $5.
Widows who have remarried, but now divorced, are again restored to their former pensionable status.

Under existing laws, only widows carried prior to June, 1893, are entitled to pensions, while this bill sets June 27, 1905, as the limit. The bill carried nearly $100,000,000, and it was estimated the increase to widows would amount to something like $9,- 000,000.

During the debate on the bill a report from the commission on pensions was read, showing that at present there are 748,147 pensioners of all classes, and that they were dying at the rate of 5,000 per month, 50,857 having been stricken from the roll during the past eleven months.

Congressman J. J. Russell, from the 14th district, who is known among old veterans as "Uncle Joe," the old soldiers' friend, is a member of the pension committee of the house, which framed this bill, and he stood by it and fought for its successful passage through the house.

Respectfully,
F. P. HILBURN,
Lewisville, Ark., July 29, 1916.

Will Vote on Prohibition.

Charles E. Stokes, executive secretary of the Missouri Dry Federation, has filed with the secretary of state the required petitions under the initiative for submission of a prohibition constitutional amendment.

The petitions include more than 25,- 000 names, being about 5,000 more than necessary to place the amendment on the ballot.

The 11 congressional districts covered are the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth and Sixteenth.
This list embraces four out of the five largest districts in the state—Fifth, Seventh, Fourteenth and Fifteenth—and also includes all of the large cities except St. Louis.

The amendment is as follows:
"Proposed amendment to the constitution of Missouri to be submitted to the legal voters of the state of Missouri for their approval or rejection at the regular general election to be held on the seventh day of November, A. D., 1916, prohibiting the manufacture of, the introduction into, and the giving, exchanging, bartering, selling or disposing of intoxicating liquors in the state of Missouri, except wine for sacramental purposes, prescribing a penalty for violation thereof and repealing all parts of the state constitution, state and municipal laws in conflict therewith."

"Be it enacted by the people of the State of Missouri:

"Section 1. From and after July 1, 1917, no intoxicating liquor, except wine for sacramental purposes, shall be manufactured in or introduced into the state of Missouri under any pretense. Every person who sells, exchanges, barter or disposes of intoxicating liquor of any kind to any person in the state of Missouri, or who manufactures or introduces into or attempts to introduce into the state of Missouri intoxicating liquor of any kind, except wine as aforesaid, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punishable by a fine of not less than $300 nor more than $1,000 or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than six months, nor more than 12 months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

"All parts of the state constitution and laws of the state and municipalities therein, conflicting with the provisions of this section, are hereby repealed."

G. O. P. Backers Retrench.

(From the New York Morning Telegraph (Ind.))
Frenzied efforts at retrenchment are being made by persons in Wall Street who during the past several days have been betting on Hughes for the Presidency. What causes this trend is not definitely known.

Former Hughes backers yesterday were striving in vain to place their money on Wilson, asking 2 to 1, the odds they gave themselves when on the other side of the fence. Evidently Hughes is going back, for Wall Street sentiment is a barometer by which elections may be gauged.

On paper Hughes is still the favorite —but only on paper. At odds of 6 to 5 it is virtually impossible to place money on him.

Broker McQuade, a Curb operator, has $25,000 he would like to bet on Wilson at odds of 6 to 5, but the Republicans are not in betting mood.

Good News.

Many Ironton Readers have Heard It and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and the many bad back sufferers in Ironton are glad to learn where relief may be found. Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. One citizen is telling the good news of their experience with this tested remedy. Here is an example worth reading:
"I am Nellie Rust, Ironton, says:
"One of my family was in pretty bad shape and suffered almost constantly from backache, sometimes being scarcely able to get about. The kidney secretions were generally too frequent in passage, particularly at night, and often painful. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Arcadia Valley Drug Co., stopped all that and we have never been without them in the house since."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Rust recommends. Foster-Mil-

Burk and Hobbs at Farmington.

(Farmington News.)
The Burke-Hobbs revival did not close Sunday as was expected. The number of conversions continued so great each night that it was decided to continue the meeting another week, notwithstanding the revival party was due at Kennett a week earlier to conduct a meeting.

Rev. Hobbs went to Kennett yesterday and will have charge of the meeting until Monday when Rev.
Burke and Mr. Lee will join him.

Rev. Burke told The News yesterday that the number of conversions to-date were fully 375. This number is being augmented by from 10 to 20 each night, most of them being young men. A number of men over 50 years of age have also been converted. Most of those converted are joining one or the other of the local churches the Sunday following their conversion.

The men's and children's parade on last Sunday afternoon was a great success. More than 300 men and as many boys and girls were in line.
The parade was headed by Gower's Juvenile Band and by Judge C. I.
Garrett, carrying a large U. S. flag.

After the parade the people crowded the large tabernacle. An offering of nearly $500 was taken for the revival party who had labored so earnestly in the meeting during the past five weeks. This was the first collection taken for them. It was argued about $200 by a collection taken at the evening service.

At the afternoon service Deputy Sheriff Sam Doss brought to the tabernacle Oscar Hull and Wm. Ross, both confessed violators of the Local Option law. They asked to be permitted to say a few words to the audience which request was granted.
They each in turn confessed their guilt and said they were willing to take their just punishment, but they said since this meeting had begun they both had confessed their sins to Almighty God and had found forgiveness. They each said their trouble was due to drink and they had determined that when they again were free men never to touch liquor or have anything to do with the sale of it. Their talks seemed to be earnest and sincere and the audience so received them. They are the only prisoners left in jail.

The Wonders of Arcadia Camping Grounds.

(By Miss Alice Kirkpatrick, Bonne Terre Register.)

After a week spent in the beautiful hill top home of the Methodist Assembly at Arcadia your reporter is again at her desk and is a full fledged booster for the Assembly henceforth and forever. The attendance this year has broken all former records, the official enrollment being 1855. It is estimated that about three fourths of the total attendance registered their names at the office. There were eighty tents on the ground and much of the time all were occupied.
New features since our last visit are the preachers building, the white ribbon bungalow and the pretty little bungalow of the Misses Wright of Warrenton. The Assembly owns 245 acres of ground from which can be seen thousands of acres of magnificent scenery.

Part of the ground may be acquired for a cash consideration of $100 an acre, but the scenery is free to all and "lives there a man or woman with soul so dead" as not to be inspired by the view from the Assembly Grounds?
If so, he or she is only "fit for treason stratagem and spoils." The campers were like one big family. Nobody waited for an introduction to neighbors and all seemed to be delighted with the simple life of the tent dweller. We simply basked in beauty and soaked in scenery for seven perfect days, sank to sleep each night to the music of seven million katydids and woke to the sound of the wood doves' mournful music.

The platform exercises included sermons, lectures, discussions, music and all of the best. From the sunrise prayer meeting to hillside vesper service it was a "feast of reason and a flow of soul." Among so many good things we cannot call special attention to any but perhaps those all. Of course the W. C. T. U. School of Methods from three to four in the afternoon on each of four days was the crowning feature from a white ribbon standpoint. Three of the State officers were in attendance, namely, Mrs. Burger, president, Miss Shaner, vice-president, and Mrs.
Pitzer, recording secretary. A number of county presidents, among whom were Mrs. Rea, our own county president, Mrs. Sigler of New Madrid County, and Mrs. Henry of Iron.
Leadwood sent a good delegation on the opening day which was Tuesday.

At four o'clock on that day a reception was given at the white ribbon bungalow to which everybody on the ground was invited. Mrs. Burger spoke in the evening to one of the largest audiences of the week. The bungalow is most satisfactory and has sleeping accommodations for seven persons which may be increased to 10 by the use of cots in the 16x20 sitting room. The sleeping porch has three single beds. There is much to be done in the way of furniture and bedding. The only articles not needed are towels; twenty-nine have been received. Bonne Terre Union contributed furnishing to the value of $25 and has $10 stock in the building. The lot upon which the building is erected was donated by Wm. Whitworth of Ironton and is one of the most desirable on the Assembly grounds.

The cottage is for rent and is an ideal place for an outing. The half has not been told, but the rest must wait till next week.

Unavoidable Disappointment.

Brudner Johnson was a pompous negro who took an active part in church work. One night the preacher said: "Brudner Johnson, will you lead us in prayer?" "Ah'm sorry to disappoint de Lawd tonight, pahson," replied Brudner Johnson, "but Ah has a cold on mah chest."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Big Fellows.

Big fellows with fine futures ahead, men possessed of pride and self-respect, have something better to do than polish bar rails. If they have odd minutes, they create, play clean games, walk and talk with children and wives and distribute happiness.—
